FINANCIAL AID AT CORNELL UNIVERSITY

THE INFORMATION in this Bulletin is set forth for the guidance of students, parents, and advisers of prospective applicants for admission. Further information may be obtained by addressing the Dean of Students, Cornell University.

GENERAL INFORMATION

SCHOLARSHIPS and other forms of financial aid are administered by the University Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships, by the various Colleges and Schools of the University, and by the Committee on Student Aid. Various foundations and organizations also provide assistance for students at Cornell University. Information is provided herein for the benefit of those prospective applicants who may be eligible.

Some scholarships are awarded to freshmen on a basis of competitive examinations given in advance of matriculation. Applications must be received by March 1 and must in all cases comply with all directions given on application blanks.

Other scholarships are awarded under regulations laid down in the endowments which provide the funds. In most cases both aptitude for college studies and financial need are taken into consideration. When need is claimed, it is important that the information called for on application blanks supplied to students and their parents be given in full; it will be treated as confidential.

No award of a scholarship is considered final until the student has enrolled and begun his studies.

AID FOR NEW STUDENTS

CERTAIN SCHOLARSHIPS are awarded as a result of competition and are restricted to members of the entering freshman class. These are:

- Cornell National Scholarships (page 5)
- University Undergraduate Scholarships (page 5)
- Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs Scholarships (page 6)
- State Cornell Scholarships (page 5)
- State University Scholarships (page 5)

John McMullen Regional and Industrial Scholarships in the College of Engineering (pages 13-14)

Freshman Scholarships in the College of Architecture (page 11), and others restricted to residents of certain localities

Except for those holding scholarships listed in this Bulletin, the University makes no provision for excusing any student from the payment of any of the tuition or other fees regularly charged by the college or school in which he is enrolled.

LOANS

LOANS may be made to students who have been enrolled for at least two terms (preferably longer) and who encounter financial difficulties. Loans may be made only to students who have demonstrated personal reliability and satisfactory achievement. Applications for such assistance must be supported by either a faculty adviser or the Dean of the applicant's college. (See also page 24.)

EMPLOYMENT

THERE are opportunities for employment of various kinds on or near the campus during the academic year. Students in their first year and students who have difficulty in maintaining a satisfactory academic record should strictly limit, and if possible avoid, regular employment. It should be realized that an undue load of outside work will endanger both health and academic success.

New students looking for steady employment start at a disadvantage because old students have had the opportunity to secure most of the jobs which provide room and board. Employers prefer to hire persons they know and generally make arrangements well in advance of the college year. New men students who depend upon employment are advised to reach Ithaca several days in advance of registration and should at once report to the University Placement Service, Willard Straight Hall. Women students wishing to find jobs should write to the Counselor of Women. Correspondence should be addressed to these offices rather than to other University departments.

The University does not control employment off the campus. The Placement Service and the Counselor of Women serve, for men and women respectively, to supply information and to advise applicants for jobs. They cannot promise employment.

The Placement Service may also be consulted regarding opportunities for summer employment through which students may gain vocational experience or accumulate funds for the ensuing year.

NOTE: A State tuition scholar in good standing may, after obtaining leave of absence from his college, obtain from the President of the University, upon written application to the Secretary of the University, leave to retain his scholarship during absence either for the purpose of earning funds with which to continue his studies or on account of illness. In such circumstances the President of the University may extend the period of the scholarship so as to afford the holder not more than six years from the commencement thereof for the completion of his course at the University. A scholar's absence from the University without leave, or tardiness in registering at the beginning of any term, is a delinquency that may involve the forfeiture of the scholarship. The Secretary of the University is required to inform the Commissioner of Education promptly of the vacancy of any scholarship, and the Commissioner has authority to fill a vacancy by appointing the person next on the list of candidates. ## LOANS

Loans to promising students in need of assistance have been made possible by gifts to the University. Students whose records justify confidence in their academic progress and their personal reliability may apply. Terms established are regulated by the Treasurer of the University. The Counselor of Men and the Counselor of Women receive applications to the Committee on Student Aid.

LOAN ENDOWMENT FUNDS have been named for Francis Leon Chrisman ('87); Walter P. Cooke ('91) (for students in law); Florence E. Dearstyne (for women); Grove Karl Gilbert ('74); Frederick W. Guiteau (for men); Theodore G. Hubbard; Julia and Mary Kirschner (for juniors and seniors); John Knickerbacker ('87); Mary Holman Ladd ('75) (for women); John N. Ostrom ('77) (for students in civil engineering); Max Schling (for students in floriculture); Nettie E. Stanton (for women); Samuel W. Wake-man (for second-year men in mechanical engineering); David E. Wright (for students in veterinary medicine). Other endowed funds include the Hunter Loan Endowment for Young Women, the Veterinary Alumni Endowment Fund, the Women's Guild Endowment (for needy sick students), and the Women Student's Fund (for women).

Money borrowed from University funds is to be repaid, with interest at 5 per cent, at a time agreed upon between the borrower and the Treasurer. The borrower gives a note as security; collateral security is not required. The University has adopted certain rules which experience has shown to be necessary to ensure that these funds shall accomplish a maximum of effectual help to deserving students. These rules impose certain restrictions upon the Committee's disposition of the funds. Among the restrictions are these:

(1) A student is eligible to borrow from this source only after maintaining a satisfactory standing in classes and in other respects during a residence of at least one year in the University. In other words, a loan is not made to a student in the first year of residence.

(2) A loan is not made to a student in the Graduate School, or to a student who has already received a college degree and is pursuing a professional course of study.

(3) A loan is not made to enable a student to meet any of the expenses of the Summer Session.

(4) A loan is made to a student in the second year of residence only in exceptional circumstances. No student can wisely count upon obtaining a loan from the fund in the sophomore year.

So many deserving students apply for loans in the course of the academic year that the Committee is compelled to limit the amount of individual loans. However needy and deserving of help, a student cannot borrow more than $300 from this source in any year, and not more than $600 in the whole course of residence. These maximum figures apply only to a comparatively few exceptional cases approved by the Committee as particularly needy and worthy of help.

The amount that may be lent to an eligible student is determined by the Committee after considering the applicant's (1) length of residence at the University, (2) character of work, (3) extent of effort toward self-support, (4) inability to obtain funds from other sources, (5) the revenue currently available for loans, and (6) the current demand for loans.

Students should not regard the Loan Fund as a normal or assured resource. No student should enter upon a year at the University with the expectation of paying a part of the year's expenses with money yet to be borrowed. The Loan Fund is a resource reserved to the industrious student of proved worth and earning power, whose means are nearly depleted and whose training is so nearly completed as to warrant going into debt to complete the training without delay.
